

Humphrey Says His Platform Will Be Peace

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, still with what was pictured as five possible running mates after Sen. Edward M. Kennedy took himself out of the running, said today he is prepared to walk a "long and arduous" road to peace if elected president.

Humphrey presumably was disappointed by Kennedy's announcement that he would not accept a vice presidential nomination, thus spoiling the dreams of some Humphrey aides for a Humphrey-Kennedy ticket.

Peace Move
Bringing his campaign into the West, Humphrey, in a speech prepared for the Utah state Democratic convention, said "the next president must take charge of America's future." And he declared the first item on "our new agenda" is "peace—nothing less."

Humphrey said, "there is a new generation emerging in the United States and other countries—a generation which reflects the old premise of war and diplomacy—one which places greater emphasis on human and personal values—like people having enough to eat, being able to learn, raising their families in health and security."

Anti - Humphrey
"And there are hopeful signs that many nations realize the need to begin shifting resources from military budgets to human development."
"This is what America wants and this is what I want."

On arriving here Friday night, Humphrey was confronted by almost as many anti-Humphrey signs as pro - Humphrey signs. Some read, "Hubert Has Bloody Hands," "Hubert Has Nothing, While 25,000 G.I.s Died," "Humphrey is a War Criminal," and "Hubert Speaks With Forked Tongue."

Rear End Crashes Take Two Lives

By The Associated Press
Automobiles smashing into the rear of other cars accounted for two of the three Michigan traffic fatalities reported in the early hours of the weekend.

Samuel Alaniz Jr., 17, of Hardee, Fla., was killed Friday night in Keeler Township of Van Buren County when his car rammed the rear of another on Territorial Road.

Thomas Ziegler, 23, of Detroit, was injured fatally when his car was struck from the rear today by one allegedly driven by Coys Ferrell, 37, also of Detroit, on Telegraph Road in Detroit.

Ted Kennedy Is Not Available; Shriver Touted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic vice presidential picture appeared to be wide open today following Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's "final, firm" decision against accepting the position at next month's national convention.

The names of Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Fred R. Harris and Ambassador to France Sargent Shriver were mentioned as possible running mates if front-running Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey wins the Democratic presidential nomination.

Humphrey, campaigning in Kansas when the Kennedy statement was released in Boston, said the decision by the Massachusetts senator "speaks for itself" and is "understandable."

McCarthy Silent
But he declined, as he has all along, to comment on who might be under consideration.

McCarthy, Humphrey's chief rival for the nomination, had no immediate comment on either Kennedy's decision or the possibility of taking No. 2 spot himself which he has in the past rejected.

A Humphrey-McCarthy ticket would pose a problem since both men come from Minnesota and the Constitution bars a state's electoral college votes from going to residents of the same state.

Shriver, Kennedy's brother-in-law who headed the Peace Corps and the antipoverty program before becoming ambassador this spring, has never run for public office.

Cuba Is Needy,
Castro Admits
SANTA CLARA, Cuba (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro, marking the 15th anniversary celebration of the revolutionary movement, admitted that his country is suffering from food and consumer shortages.
"People need things," the bearded leader said in a speech that was unusually short—less than two hours.
"But the revolution cannot give what it does not have. And it must distribute what it has in the most fair way," he told a mass rally in the main square of this gaily decorated capital of Las Villas Province.
The speech, given under a blazing sun, was marked by its lack of reference to communism and anticommunism in other countries.
Castro discussed Cuba's internal problems and made his usual call for more work and dedication to communism.
The government has begun rationing of milk products and some other items.
In an apparent economy move, Castro announced that future mass celebrations would be limited to "one or two a year" and military parades to one every five years or so.

sisted no decision on the vice presidency was imminent, have said that both McCarthy and Shriver are possibilities.

There is also support from within the Humphrey camp for Harris, who is cochairman of the vice president's campaign along with Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn.

But an aide said the 37-year-old Oklahoma Democrat has given no thought to the possibility.

Texas Gov. John B. Connally, who had criticized the possibility of a Kennedy candidacy earlier in the week, said in Austin, Tex., that he and five other Southern and border state governors told Humphrey Thursday to choose a running mate "more moderate than you are."

Postal Service Cuts Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first in a series of postal service cutbacks, scheduled to take effect today, has been put off for a week while Congress considers exempting the Post Office Department from federal manpower reductions.

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced the stay late Friday after the Senate voted to exempt postal service from the manpower cuts, dictated by the recently passed income tax bill.

He gave the House a week to follow suit.

Under a timetable announced July 12 the department had planned to cut window service today at first and second class post offices to a maximum of two hours and to put Saturday collections from street boxes on Sunday schedules.

The department said these were the first steps in a sharp curtailment of operations that eventually would lead to closing of 12,000 small branches and restricting of residential deliveries to four days a week.

Che Makes Trouble Even Dead

Diary May Oust President

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Cuba's publication of Ernesto "Che" Guevara's diary has touched off the worst Bolivian crisis of President Rene Barrientos, two-year regime.
Some Bolivians believe it could result in the downfall of Barrientos.
"The irony of the diary is that Che is hurting Barrientos more dead than when he roamed the jungles with his guerrillas," said one local commentator.
Bolivian politicians and journalists speculated that Barrientos might lose the all-important support of army general Alfredo Ovando and be replaced by a military dictatorship.
The military has been silent publicly, but meeting in private. The crisis involving a mass cabinet resignation, a bloody MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Authorities say James Earl Ray will probably not have to wear a bulletproof vest when he stands trial in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"We do not anticipate any extra type of paraphernalia in the courtroom," Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. said Friday. "Our security will be of a perimeter type."

Morris, meeting with newsmen for the first full-fledged session since Ray was returned July 19 from England, indicated that getting into the courtroom when Ray is on trial will be most difficult.

Reporters covering the trial will be given special identification cards bearing their photographs and fingerprints. But they and other spectators will have to be searched and be video taped before being admitted.

The picture Morris painted of Ray, probably the most closely protected prisoner in Tennessee history, was of a man who is eating and sleeping well and getting his exercise.

"He does pushups and walks," Morris said. "He reads, plays gin rummy with his guards, but he doesn't discuss the case with anyone but his attorney."

And Ray's attorney, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., agreed his client is fine. After spending two hours and 45 minutes with Ray Friday, Hanes said he was "in a good mood" and was "very optimistic. He had very little to complain about."

Blowgun Darts Imperil Children

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Health officials say 13 children have been treated at hospitals here after swallowing tiny plastic darts from a toy blowgun called the Zulugun.
The city Health Department said Friday about 250,000 of the plastic guns were distributed here by the Frank H. Fleer Corp. About four million were circulated in the eastern United States.

"No Czech Fear," Dubcek

PRAGUE (AP) — Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek told his followers Friday that the Czechoslovak party presidium is preparing for talks with Soviet leaders with unanimity. He called for "strong faith in our good cause."

Addressing a group of Prague workers, Dubcek said: "We think there is no reason for fear or mistrust. On the contrary a certain dose of optimism, strong faith in our good cause and confidence that the correctness of our new policy will be proved is needed to help will be proved is fears of our friends."

"Such an attitude by our people and party will be the greatest support in the talks," he added.

Dubcek's meeting with the workers came as liberals warned Czech leaders that "the fate of our nation" is at stake in the impending showdown with the Soviet leadership, which is trying to blunt Czechoslovak moves toward liberalization.

Members of the ruling Soviet Politburo are expected to begin talks in Czechoslovakia early next week.

Rumors circulated that a split in the presidium had occurred over the removal of Lt. Gen. Vaclav Prchlik from a key spot in the party Central Committee, where he had been under fire by the Soviets.

Prchlik was returned to army service and his department, which controlled the army, security police and judiciary, was abolished.

The rumors of a divided vote were discounted here by informed sources who saw the move as a tactical one.

During the crisis, Czechoslovak leaders have been careful

$5.4 Billion Housing Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign shortly a $5.4-billion housing bill that opens new vistas of federal aid to low income families and takes the first step in his 10-year goal to erase city slums.

The measure, a signal victory for Johnson after a year-long see-saw battle with Congress, passed the House Friday 226 to 135 and was sent to the White House.

The bill is an authorization and actual appropriations for the programs are expected to fall for the scrimmage.

Key feature of the compromise bill authorizes $300 million to help 500,000 families in the $3,000-$6,000 income range buy homes.

The government would pick up part of the interest cost over one per cent and in extreme cases all interest above one per cent.

To be eligible, families in general would have to have an income not more than 35 per cent greater than the level established in their own communities for admission to public housing.

They would have to devote 20 per cent of their income to housing with the subsidy based on the difference between that amount and the actual payments.

Che Makes Trouble Even Dead

Diary May Oust President

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — demonstration and Barrientos' loss of support from his vice president has this background:
When Cuba first published the diary of Guevara's hardships leading a ragtag guerrilla band in eastern Bolivia, most people here believed the army was responsible for the document reaching Cuba.
The army would not tolerate this kind of publicity, especially after the government spent $3 million tracking down Guevara and his band. Besides, the army had hopes of selling the diary to Western publishers.
Barrientos, meanwhile, visited President Johnson in Texas, and picked up a promise of $12 million in budget backing.
His position seemed secure as a president could hope for in this frequently violent land with to avoid any move that might provoke the Soviets into using force to halt the liberalization drive. The sources said the removal of Prchlik was a gesture of compromise and that in the long run the department would have been eliminated anyway.

The Soviet party newspaper Pravda charged that the situation had reached a point where there was danger that the United States would intervene in behalf of the Dubcek regime.

Biafra Asking Famine Airlift

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Biafra appealed to the world today for a massive airlift of food and accused Nigeria of sabotaging aid to its starving people.

The secessionist state said it would not object to Nigerian observers inspecting air cargoes of relief supplies, according to a statement broadcast by Biafra radio.

Federal and Biafran representatives negotiated without success in Niamey, capital of Niger this week on a proposal to open a corridor south of Enugu for passage of food supplies into territory still held by the rebel Biafrans.

Negotiations on relief supplies and other problems arising from the war will be taken up at peace talks scheduled to open Aug. 5 in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, told the Senate Friday that Fortas, since becoming a member of the high court in 1965, has joined in a series of decisions that have "practically destroyed" community moral standards.

He said he hoped Johnson would withdraw Fortas' nomination to succeed Earl Warren. Miller's comments followed statements earlier in the week by several members of the Senate Judiciary Committee that they wanted all committee members, before they voted on the nomination, to see a film that had been the subject of a Supreme Court ruling.

The film was ruled obscene by a federal court but the decision was later overturned by the Supreme Court with Fortas agreeing with the majority.

Poles Warned On Smuggling In Luxuries

WARSAW (AP) — The Polish armed forces newspaper has warned Poles they face fines, forfeiture of goods and "future troubles" in traveling if they try to smuggle in items purchased on trips abroad.

Inspection of baggage at various customs' offices this month, the newspaper said, turned up these examples among others:

One man tried to bring in several transistor radios, several movie cameras, 10 pounds of chewing gum, 2.2 pounds of nail polish and artificial eyelashes.

A woman "forgot to mention" 22 pounds of Persian lamb paw skins. Officials impounded 1,180 razor blades from another woman.

Fines can be meted out of equal to eight times the amount of the confiscated goods, the newspaper said.

U.S. Will Free Vietnam Captives

SAIGON (AP) — The American military command will release several North Vietnamese prisoners in response to the release of three U.S. Air Force pilots, informed sources said today.

Hanoi has announced the pilots' imminent release but at last reports they still were in North Vietnam.
Previous prisoner releases by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been followed by a similar release of prisoners by the allies.

Citing an article in the Wall Street Journal, Pravda claimed it called for shipment of weapons and supplies to anti-Communists in Czechoslovakia and "raising the military fist" of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Close Gun Shops

NEW YORK (AP) — Abercrombie & Fitch has temporarily closed seven gunshops in its branches around the country following the apparent suicide of a man in its New York store Friday.

The 34-year-old man walked into the seventh-floor gunshop at the fashionable Madison Avenue sports store, bought $5.50 worth of shotgun shells, then loaded one into a gun on display and killed himself.

Michigan Loses 1,904 In War

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Hampshire, Hawaii and Massachusetts have suffered the highest percentage of men killed in terms of men entering the service since Americans started fighting in the Vietnam war.

This finding, based on an Associated Press tabulation, comes from official combat death totals listed for each state as compared with draft figures and estimated enlistments between Jan. 1, 1961, and May 30, 1968.

The AP count shows New Hampshire has suffered 99 dead from hostile action in the war from among an estimated 7,542 men drafted or who enlisted or, more precisely, .013 per cent of the state's manpower contribution.

Hawaii had 127 dead from among an estimated 12,393 drafted or enlisted during the 89-month period for a loss of .0102 per cent.

Massachusetts gave up 586 killed from an estimated 61,668 put into uniform during the period, or .0095 per cent.

In sheer numbers alone, California still has lost the most men, 2,399, according to the latest computerized count compiled only Thursday by the Department of Defense.

New York, second most populous state behind California, follows in the pure-number category with 1,836 war dead. Texas is third with 1,436.

According to numbers alone, California, New York and Texas are followed by four other states with total Vietnam killed amounting to more than 1,000: Pennsylvania (1,407), Illinois (1,261), Ohio (1,252) and Michigan (1,904).

Higher Fares May Cut Congestion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has approved rare industrywide airline talks that could lead to revision of fares as one way to solve the current air congestion crisis.

The joint discussions by domestic and foreign airlines on matters including fares was authorized late Friday by the CAB, which must approve any fare changes.

The CAB said any fare increases decided on for peak travel periods must be offset by equivalent reductions in the same markets.

First Action Of Vietnam War In Thai Theater

SAIGON (AP) — A guerrilla force attacked a U.S. Air Force base in Thailand for the first time in the Vietnam war Friday night, damaging two planes, killing a Thai guard and wounding four Americans.

Two of the enemy were reported killed and one captured during the brief assault on Udon Air Base in northern Thailand, an area which the Bangkok government says is infested by North Vietnamese-backed guerrillas.

An Air Force spokesman said it was the first time an American base in Thailand had come under attack. Udon, with 6,500 airmen and 100 warplanes, is the largest of seven U.S. bases in Thailand from which most strikes are mounted against North Vietnam.

Planes Are Goal

Associated Press correspondent Peter O'Loughlin reported from Udon that a guerrilla band of unknown size penetrated the base's perimeter with small arms fire and satchel charges and tried to reach a flight line where the main contingent of F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and reconnaissance jets was parked.

A combined Thai-American security force drove the enemy back as they tried to place explosives around the parked aircraft.

An F4 and a C141 Starlifter, a four-engine jet cargo aircraft fitted for medical evacuation, were damaged by fire. Two Air Force women corpsmen were at the evacuation craft when the attack began, but were not harmed.

Fire Ammo Dump

The attackers also triggered an ammunition and fuel explosion which was brought under control quickly.

In South Vietnam, enemy gunners zeroed in with rockets for the third straight night on the Da Nang fighter base, from which attack missions are also mounted against the panhandle.

Deaths Down

SAIGON (AP) — Paralleling the pace of the ground fighting, casualties in the Vietnam war have dropped off since early June. But U. S. officials refused to predict that the lull will last.

One obvious reason is that the enemy has not chosen to fight. Gen. Creighton Abrams, U. S. commander, has summed up the current situation this way: "He is trying to make himself hard to find. He's devoting all his energy to it and there's lots of country out there."

ent Michael Goldsmith reported from Da Nang, 375 miles northeast of Saigon, that one squadron from the 1st Marine Air Wing was temporarily grounded after a Russian-made 100-pound rocket scored a direct hit on a hangar housing several of the Marine A6 all-weather jet Intruders. # Negroes Claim Big Cleveland Victory

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — With Cleveland's hot racial tensions cooled to near normal, some Negro leaders complained today that neither they nor Mayor Carl B. Stokes have been given enough credit for averting a racial bloodbath.

The week might have ended with far more than three policemen and seven civilians dead, they said, had they not been allowed a 24-hour cooling off period to patrol the streets Wednesday night with National Guardsmen and white police withdrawn.

Reduced law enforcement patrols reported few incidents Friday night, even though Stokes pushed back the start of curfew to midnight to let slum residents enjoy part of their usual Friday night out.

Early today police arrested Harlel Jones, 29, a Black Nationalist and former city employee. Jones was arrested for curfew violation and was questioned in connection with carrying a concealed weapon.

Police from as far as Boston planned to attend today's memorial Mass for their three slain colleagues, as the man who boasted he planned the gunfight that took their lives was charged with their murders.

"We knew Wednesday evening that if white policemen had gone into the black community Wednesday night there would have been a wholesale slaughter of black people," said William Picard, director of Cleveland's National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Stokes, who made two trips into the six-square-mile East Wednesday night, said he fired a carbine slug still in his body.

Police and guardsmen raided two hotels and Evans' home in neighborhoods frequented by black nationalists in search of weapons Friday.

Capt. George Sperber, head of the police intelligence unit, said they found rifles and bloody bandages at one hotel, and about 15 weapons at the home, including shotguns and assorted single shot and fully automatic rifles.

The body of one gunman, he added, may still be in the rubble of the burned-out home.

About 2,000 members of the Ohio National Guard remained on duty, and Maj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, Ohio adjutant general, said that if order was maintained half might be sent home today, and the rest Sunday.

Welfarist
Cleveland, Ohio (AP) — Fred Ahmed Evans, the black nationalist leader charged with murder in the slaying of three policemen Tuesday's sniper battle, was responsible for administering $10,300 of Cleveland Now Money, an antipoverty official said.

The Rev. DeForest Brown, president of the Hough Development Corp., said he knows of no guns purchased by Evans. Brown said Evans was given a $31,000 grant July 27 from funds of Cleveland Now, an antipoverty organization.

Brown said the money was to be used for a 12-week program which would employ 23 youth and about 12 young adults and designed to reach about 600 young people between ages 15 and 18.

Side trouble zone Friday to ask for citizen cooperation, ordered all city flags to be flown at half staff in honor of the slain policemen.

He and his wife sent notes of condolence to each of the three families, all of whom will hold their own private funeral services.

Murder Charged
Fred Ahmed Evans, the bearded black nationalist charged with murder, remained in Cuyahoga County jail under $250,000 bond. He pleaded innocent to three earlier charges—possession of a carbine, shooting with intent to kill and possession of marijuana.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, in a copyright story, said tow truck driver William H. McMillan, the first man shot in Tuesday night's sniper battle, identified Evans as the man

State Asking Bids On Three Highway Jobs

The Department of State Highways today announced that it will receive bids in Lansing on Aug. 7 for the construction of three minor highway improvement projects in the Upper Peninsula.

Mackinac County—1.72 miles of bituminous aggregate surfacing on Indian Road from near Engadine north. To be completed Nov. 15 this year.

Ontonagon County—6.91 miles of bituminous aggregate surfacing on South Boundary Road from west of Silver City south and west. Completion date Aug. 1, 1969.

Marquette County—4.61 miles of bituminous aggregate surfacing on M-35 near Little Lake westerly to New Swanzy; also like construction in the village of Gwinn. To be completed Aug. 31, 1969.

Medicare Bill Process Changed

Recent improvements in Medicare provide greater health insurance protection for older people, says Arnold T. Williams, social security manager in Escanaba. One of the improvements now makes it easier to claim payment under doctor bill insurance.

"If your doctor does not want to apply for the Medicare payment, you can apply for it by submitting an itemized bill, even if you have not yet paid the bill," said Williams.

Medicare does not pay the entire bill, however. The patient is responsible for the first $50 of medical expenses each year, and 20 per cent of the remainder. Medicare pays the other 80 per cent of the reasonable charges.

State Democrats Case Platform

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Democrats Friday announced they would hold a public hearing on the party's national convention platform, an action the national committee declined to take.

"We are determined that the platform writing process will be brought to the people rather than being restricted just to those who will meet in Chicago" at the national convention, said State Chairman Sander Levin.

Levin said Ohio Democrats also plan a public hearing on the platform and similar action is being considered by three other Great Lakes states parties.

"We decided to take the regional approach to holding these hearings when it became clear that the national convention platform and resolutions committee would not hold hearings throughout the country as we requested," Levin said.

"We are determined that in this presidential election year when so many critical issues face this country, we are going to give the people of this area an opportunity to speak out meaningfully on what they think should be done to solve our country's problems," he said.

"That can best be accomplished by letting the general public speak directly to the people who will be writing the Democratic platform in Chicago," Levin added.

Under the regional approach, Levin said, a day-long series of hearings would be held in each of the participating states.

The two members of the national convention platform and resolutions committee from each state would be on the hearing panels. Also invited to sit on the panels will be delegation chairman from each state, Democratic senators and congressmen from all the participating states and the state party chairman from each state.

Levin said the Michigan hearing would be held Aug. 3 in Detroit.

Ohio and other participating states would announce the times and places of their hearings later, he said.

Milk Producers Get Increases In U. S. Orders

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued a final decision calling for higher prices to dairy farmers for their milk in the Upper Peninsula.

The milk market order decision was one of 15 for federal milk marketing areas.

The increases, subject to approval by dairy farmers in each order area, range from 12 to 25 cents a hundred pounds of milk.

Upper Peninsula milk producers received $4.88 per hundredweight as a blend (average) price for their milk in June, compared with $4.98 in May and $4.66 in June, 1967. The Class I (drinking) milk was $5.24 per cwt. last month compared with $4.96 a year ago and the Class II (milk for manufacture into cheese, etc) was $4.18, compared with $3.96 a year ago.

The federal action followed a hearing at Cleveland June 26.

Delete Factor
The change in the order for the Upper Peninsula deletes the Class I price supply-demand adjustment provisions.

The order states: "The Upper Peninsula supply-demand formula is based on the combined supply-sales relationship of this order and the former Northeastern Wisconsin order. (Effective July 1, 1968 the Northeastern Wisconsin order was terminated and the marketing area merged into the Chicago Regional Order.) The supply-demand adjustment has been a minus 24 cents continuously since February 1967.

"Cooperatives representing a majority of producers on each market proposed elimination of the supply-demand adjustment provisions. They stated that with the present premium price arrangements in each market, the supply-demand adjusters have had no practical effect on total milk supplies relative to Class I sales. They also pointed out that the elimination of the adjusters would keep Class I prices in these markets in closer historical relationship to Class I prices under the new Chicago regional order.

Chatham Water Loan Approved

CHATHAM — A $53,000 insured loan and a $41,000 direct loan to a group of 55 families in the Village of Chatham to develop a rural water system have been approved by the Farmers Home Administration reports Nyle L. Katz, the agency's state director.

The loan will enable the Hakala Well and Pump Service, Negaunee, to drill a well, construct a pumping station with pumping equipment, controls and all mechanical and electrical equipment needed.

It will also enable the Rose Trenching Company, Bay City, to provide a water distribution system by laying approximately one mile of pipeline and the Universal Tank and Iron Works, Inc., Indianapolis, to erect an elevated 50,000 gallon water storage tank.

Construction of the project will provide about 3,400 man-days of labor for engineers, well drillers, operators of ditch digging equipment, surveyors and day laborers.

Construction is expected to start immediately. Total cost of the project will be $149,393. The contract totals are as follows: Hakala Well and Pump Service $23,995, Rose Trenching Co. $92,608 and Universal Tank and Iron Works $32,780. The $55,383 needed, in addition to the $94,000 loan, to pay for the cost of the project will come from the water consumer payments.

Under the insured loan program the Farmers Home Administration makes and services the loan and guarantees repayment of the money borrowed along with interest.

State Director Katz reports that construction of the water system will mark a milestone in the history of the Alger County rural area development program. The new water system will provide a safe and adequate water supply and enable many families to modernize their homes and will make water available to numerous business places as well.

For several years families have been hauling water for their needs because contamination of most of the wells has forced residents to obtain water from other sources.

The Farmers Home Administration loan is to be repaid over a period of forty years.

Officers of the Village of Chatham are: George Leppamaki, president; Mrs. Shirley Lammi, clerk, and Matt Hallstrom, Neil Ylitalo, Henry Norman, board members.

Air Congestion Costly Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — On one recent, clear day, with beautiful flying weather, more than 20,000 passengers aboard 200 flights were delayed landing at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, most of them for an hour or more.

An early afternoon flight sat on the ground at Newark, N.J., waiting for takeoff clearance for three hours.

This kind of situation, once a rare exception, is now the rule.

The airlines estimate that delays due to traffic congestion are costing them $50 million a year in extra fuel, added crew time, and inefficient use of equipment.

In addition, annoyed and inconvenienced passengers are losing millions of dollars a year in productive time.

Alan S. Boyd, secretary of transportation, has estimated that needed airport improvements and expansion will cost $6 billion, through 1975, and that the cost of bringing the airways navigation system up to date will be about $150 million a year for the next four or five years, in addition to current airways appropriations of about $500 million a year.

Medicenter-Escanaba Breaks Ground Today

Jack Glascock, regional representative of Medicenters of America, Inc., of Memphis, Tenn., late this morning joined with Escanaba Mayor Cecil B. Chase; Chamber of Commerce Manager Walter Lewke and Dick Pryal, president of Willow Creek Development Corp., to officially break ground on the 60-bed, $550,000 Medicenter in Escanaba.

The modern, one-story Medicenter, set for completion in mid-1969, is a project by a group of prominent local business and professional people under a license by Medicenters of America, Inc., of Memphis.

Located at 2500 7th Ave. S., directly west of Doctor's Park, the Medicenter will bring a new concept of health care to Escanaba, providing intermediate health care facilities for patients recuperating from surgery and other acute health problems.

In addition to a bright atmosphere in the Medicenter, patients will benefit from projected rates of $15.50 for a semi-private (double occupancy) and $23.00 for private rooms.

Rooms Carpeted
Room accommodations will include wall-to-wall carpeting, colorful draperies, private baths, individual temperature controls and liberal visitation by family and friends.

Physical therapy, inhalation therapy, laboratory and diagnostic x-ray services will be available to help speed the patient back to recovery.

Mayor Chase, welcoming Medicenter to Escanaba, noted that "it is a welcome addition to our present excellent facilities."

John DeCell, Medicenter vice president, said "We want to be a part of your medical team, supplying a medical facility of the highest quality at a price beneficial to the patient needing recuperative care."

Wallace E. Johnson and Kemmons Wilson, better known as America's "Holiday Innkeepers," developed the Medicenter concept. Their research led to the Medicenter concept of recuperative care in surroundings that avoid the institutional look of many hospitals. It was emphasized, however, that while Holiday Inns and Medicenters of America, Inc., have two of the same officials, the Medicenter organization is a separate corporation in no way connected to Holiday Inns.

"Convalescent Care"
Many commercial health insurance companies are now including this "extended care" or "convalescent care" coverage in their health insurance policies. One Michigan group insurance executive said that his company provided this coverage under their group plans and would include the benefit if the employer requested it.

"Insurance rates are based upon the amount of use by policy-holders," he said, "so due to the lower price charged by the Medicenter-type facility, it is conceivable that our experience in the recuperative care field can result in lower rates for health insurance."

Currently there are 17 Medicenters in operation, 11 under construction and over 50 in some stage of planning. Those Medicenters in operation are: Houston and Fort Worth, Texas; Boston, Mass.; Lewisburg, Memphis and Nashville, Tenn.; Columbia, S. C.; Wilmington, Raleigh, Spartanburg and Winston-Salem, N.C.; Evansville and Gary, Ind.; Tallahassee, Fla.; Hopkinsville, Ky.; Augusta, Ga.; and Grand Junction, Colo.

DANGEROUS FISH

We Honor Our Military

"I pity the poor fellows fighting this unpopular war!"

Many persons have said it.

Our fighting men, reading the papers from home, and noticing the attitude of the home front when they're back from the war, have commented on it.

Some of them may feel that they're fighting a dirty war for an unappreciative home front. But this isn't true.

Their country has called them to serve it in arms on a very distant battleground and they're doing it. They're bleeding and dying there in a cause which wasn't of their making. They're members of what our military experts say is the best army we've ever fielded. They're fighting magnificently under very trying conditions in a war which Washington has set up as a "no win" war.

They've punished the Viet Cong and North Vietnam severely, but they are really fighting the strength of Red China and Soviet Russia and it is not part of our national policy to carry the war to these nations for a decision, for fear of provoking a world nuclear war.

It must, to our men in Vietnam, seem an act of sense for the home front to close ranks in support of the war and get it over. The divisions which rive the home front can't help but make our fighting forces feel that they're not getting the solid backing they deserve at home.

We have a national split personality on this one. We do honor and support our fighting forces in Vietnam; we count their performance as heroic as any in our national history, but most Americans today have serious misgivings about the war and they favor a national reassessment of our commitment there.

This doesn't mean that we're going to abandon South Vietnam and bug out of the war.

It does mean that our approach to peace is on a new basis. We no longer look for an early military victory in Vietnam. The nation wonders whether there is a possibility of military victory there, and many of our national leaders have declared that there is no prospect of one.

President Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential campaign is an acknowledgement of failure of our policy in Vietnam and of the need for another solution than arms there.

If the sacrifices of our fighting men are to be meaningful we can't just keep on pouring lives and money into an Asian sinkhole. We bumbled into the war through errors of the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations, with escalation attempting to solve each successive failure, like a poor gambler doubling his bets to bail out.

We undertook to defend militarily a people who had not achieved nationhood against the might of Communist Asia. Having failed to do any of the things we set out to do in this war, except to prevent the subjugation of South Vietnam by the communists, we have made the war policy of our nation a prime question in our presidential campaign.

This is eminently proper and needful. It is the hope of our armed forces for protection from unnecessary sacrifice and for useful deployment.

The ability of the people to question their leadership is one of the greatest strengths of America and we are seeing it in practice.

Meanwhile, full honor to our men and women who bear the heavy burden of this longest of our wars.

The Family Lawyer

ALIMONY ROAD

Sentenced to prison for failing to pay alimony, an indigent husband demanded his release on constitutional grounds.

"The Constitution forbids imprisonment for debt," he argued. "I can't be put in jail just for not paying the money I owe my ex-wife."

Nevertheless, the court decided to let the sentence stand. The judge said the husband was being punished not for failing to pay a sum of money but for contempt of court.

Although this distinction may not have satisfied the husband, it carries enough weight to be recognized in most jurisdictions. What a man owes his divorced wife is not a debt—such as you might owe the corner drugstore—but a personal obligation growing out of the marriage relationship itself.

It is this obligation that a divorce court is enforcing when it orders a husband to pay alimony. And when he refuses to pay, he is defying a court order—and is therefore in contempt.

But to justify sending him to jail, there must indeed be defiance, not just an inability to pay.

Thus, a husband cannot be imprisoned if, even though willing, he simply cannot make the payments. Say a man falls behind in alimony because he loses his job and can't find another. In such circumstances, a court is not likely to send him to jail—even if his ex-wife wants to put him there.

What if the husband, although broke himself, has relatives who could come to his financial rescue if they so desired?

"Throw him in jail," urged one divorcee in court, "and his relatives will show up in a hurry with the money."

But the court refused to apply this roundabout pressure. The judge pointed out that in the eyes of the law, only the husband—not his relatives—had any duty to support her.

Furthermore, for a very practical reason, imprisonment is no longer used very often in alimony cases. The big drawback is that while the husband is behind bars, he is not earning any money. True, his incarceration might give his ex-wife some sort of satisfaction. But it will not help to buy groceries or pay the rent.

Who Says They Learn From History?

Every Other Person Is Subject To Ivy Poison

If ever someone suggests to you that eating the leaf of a poison ivy plant will prevent poison ivy "rash" on your skin, don't be taken in.

"Eating either the fruit or the leaves can cause serious gastric upset," warns Dr. Donald J. Birmingham, professor of dermatology at Wayne State University's School of Medicine.

But you don't have to eat the leaves to gain respect for this troublesome little plant. Ivy dermatitis (acute inflammation of the skin) which results from contact with the plant is familiar to many. The disorder can range from reddened, itchy skin to multiple oozing blisters, which crust and then scale. It may be a mild or markedly disabling attack.

Easily identified by the greenish flowers, white berries and the ternate (three-leaf) leaves, poison ivy causes one of those curious afflictions about which a great deal remains a mystery.

Although the unpleasant dermatitis associated with poison ivy was recognized by Capt. John Smith in 1609, and was described in the Indian cultures, it still isn't known why some persons appear to have been born with an immunity to the affliction.

"It's believed that about one-half of the population is sensitive to contact with the plant," says Dr. Birmingham.

"Contrary to popular belief, touching the leaves does not necessarily result in the development of an eruption," he says. "Rather it is the contact with the poison from broken parts of the plant or bruised leaves that causes the eruption."

Much to the dismay of mothers whose children and pet dogs have been romping in patches of the plant, the poison is often spread by contact with shoes, articles of clothing or dog hair.

The poison is not spread, however, from person to person. "Even contact with the weeping sores of someone with a serious attack will not transmit the disease," says Dr. Birmingham.

Care must be used when disposing of the ivy, points out Dr. Birmingham. Due to the plant's year-long toxicity, burning it with leaves and other garden materials can result in a dermatitis. When the plant is burned, the poison rises in droplet form attached to the ashes and dust in the smoke.

When handling the plant, use gloves. Don't carelessly pull the plant from the ground simply because the leaves have fallen and the plant looks harmless. It isn't.

Prosecutors For Revision Of Gun Laws

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The Prosecuting Attorney's Association of Michigan Friday called for a revision of the state's gun control laws.

A resolution approved at the association's annual convention on Mackinac Island termed present gun control laws "a patchwork of archaic, ambiguous, confusing provisions often impossible for those schooled in law to understand or interpret."

The prosecutors urged development of new gun control laws which would protect both the freedom of the individual and prevent the abuse of firearms by those untrained in their use, or by persons mentally unfit or with criminal records.

Marshall Miles concluded his article on entry problems for the May-June issue of "Popular Bridge" with a rather unusual hand of well-known type.

South's choice of six no-trump rather than six diamonds for the final contract is due to the fact that he is playing match point duplicate and six no-trump bid and made will be a top score while six diamonds will only be average.

He wins the first heart in dummy; leads the five of spades and puts in his jack. Should the jack lose, he will go down several tricks; but the jack holds. He has found an extra entry to his own hand and is able to knock out the ace of diamonds and get his top score.

There are probably a few remarks about horseshoes and blind luck, but it is possible that one of your readers may have noticed that East could have beaten the contract. All East would have to do would be to play his queen of spades at trick two. This would kill that extra entry to the South hand and keep the diamond suit from being brought in.

This second hand high play to kill an entry is not impossible. Every expert has made a play along those lines more than once. This one would be a trifle sensational but should not be out of the question. It should not be hard for East to realize that his queen of spades would be worthless if retained in his hand. Then, if East were a real expert or even just a student of the game who had seen this play discussed in various bridge writings, he might well play the queen.

On the other hand if one of us happened to be playing this six no-trump contract and someone did make the play against us, you would probably be able to fry an egg by dropping it on the head of the declarer.

Ann Landers Manners Are A Tip Off To Personality

Dear Ann Landers: Our 20-year-old daughter met a graduate student at school several months ago. Last weekend she invited Byron to spend a few days with us so he could meet the family and the family could meet him.

My husband and I found him tense, strained, humorless and uncommunicative. We could have overlooked all this since Byron knew he was being "inspected," but we can't overlook his atrocious manners.

The moment the food appeared Byron rushed to the buffet table, piled up a plate as if there were no tomorrow and spilled gravy on the cloth. He didn't look for anyone with whom to enjoy his dinner—simply shoveled in the food and raced back in line a second time.

At breakfast I mentioned this to Alicia and she became incensed. She says manners are not important, that Byron has a beautiful mind and lofty principles and she finds him enormously appealing. Any comment?—BYSTANDERS

Dear By: Byron may be appealing today but if she marries him she might find him appalling.

Manners ARE important—and I don't mean which fork to use, I mean being thoughtful and putting others before oneself.

Byron is a pig about food which indicates a high degree of selfishness. The trait may run through his entire personality. I hope your daughter recognizes his bad manners for what they are.

Dear Ann: Ozzie came home on leave last week and I could hardly sleep I was so excited at the thought of seeing him. His letters were so affectionate! He even sent three batches of pictures.

The first week Ozzie was home he never took me anywhere—just sat around and ate out of the icebox. Also, he never stayed later than 9:00.

I found out yesterday that Ozzie is going with three other girls and his letters to all of us have been identical. I didn't let on that I cared but I am heartbroken. I told Ozzie tonight I thought he had played me dirty and he offered a solution—his brother.

At "Crucial Stage" Says Carrier

E & LS Asks Permit To Abandon Branch

Stating that it is at "a crucial stage in its life as a common carrier," the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit it to abandon its Escanaba River branch line.

The railroad's position in requesting permission to abandon this part of its system because a bridge over the Escanaba River which bears the line is no longer safe for rail traffic and income from the branch does not justify its repair or replacement is set forth in a document filed with the ICC by Guy W. Knutson, vice president and general manager of the railroad, and the road's lawyers.

"The applicant (E&LS) is seeking to remain viable in order that it may continue to provide efficient railroad service to the public where it is actually needed," the line's return to a questionnaire states. "To this end it seeks to terminate operations on its River Branch line, and to abandon the line itself, because of continuing losses in the operation of that line. The public interest is not served by permitting the continuation of an economic hemorrhage or causing a greater hemorrhage—the danger now threatening the E&LS Railroad."

The road's statement says the 1.9 mile branch line includes a railroad bridge over the Escanaba River and spur tracks on the north side of the river in the vicinity of the terminus of the branch line. Last April bridge engineers rated the branch line bridge unsafe for rail operations and the line discontinued its use.

The branch line was built in 1903 to serve a sawmill, chemical plant, blast furnace and a tanning extract plant. These industries were liquidated before 1942 but service on the branch was continued. The territory served is "relatively undeveloped," the road says, with 35 homes within a quarter mile of the track and a population of 200 to 250.

Hare Firing Hubert's Foes

LANSING (AP) — Assistant Secretary of State James F. Palmer said Friday he was fired from his $14,500 a year post because he failed to support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as the Democratic presidential nominee.

Palmer received his walking papers late Friday afternoon from Secretary of State James M. Hare. He was the second person to be fired this week by Hare.

"My notice came at 3:15 p.m. Friday in a memorandum (from Hare) saying that 'You are terminated as of tonight today,'" Palmer said.

Earlier this week, Deputy Secretary of State James F. McClure was fired by Hare. McClure also charged that he was fired for failing to rally behind Humphrey.

Timber Homes, manufacturer of prefabricated timber homes; the Wade Corp. jet fuel terminal "which ships only very minimal traffic over the branch line" (it is served by a pipeline to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base), and the Delta County Road Commission.

Causes Losses

The county road facility established in 1935 has no out-bound traffic and had only a few carloads inbound in 1966, 1967 and so far in 1968. "These industries use other modes of transportation," the E&LS states.

"Efforts were made to dispose of the line to the Chicago & North Western Railway, which has trackage adjacent to E&LS's River Branch line, but such efforts were unavailing due to the low revenues accruing on the River Branch line."

Team tracks of the E&LS would be available to Early American, American Timber Homes and the County Road Commission at Groes and Wells.

The E&LS said its River Branch caused it operating losses of $1,995 in 1966 and $3,474 in 1967 and that it would cost $47,700 to repair the bridge and restore rail service to the branch.

"Monstrous" Court System

Black Tattles About Kavanagh

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black charged Friday that in the 1966 court election, the then-chief justice pressured lawyers for campaign contributions for a fellow Democrat.

The incident was one of several Black cited in attacking Michigan's "monstrous system" under which supreme court justices, who run on nonpartisan ballots, are nominated by the two major political parties.

"You may not know," Black told the annual meeting of Michigan prosecutors "that any lawyer or judge desiring to be a candidate for election to the Michigan Supreme Court must in nearly every instance sell his personal and partisan wares to (political) convention delegates."

He said that in 1966, when Republican Thomas Brennan successfully ran against Democratic incumbent Otis Smith, "all of us witnessed the then-chief justice of our court (Thomas M. Kavanagh) with full party support, putting pressure of lawyers — lawyers having regular business in our court—for substantial contributions to his (Smith's) campaign."

Black said he decided then not to vote for Kavanagh again for chief justice resulting in the election of Republican Justice John Dethmers — a not very attractive selection between two gentlemen neither of whom was ever noted for constitutional nonpartisanship.

Black, a former Republican attorney general who was nominated for the court by the Democrats, vowed to support Republican court candidate Edward S. Piggins, a Wayne County circuit judge, in 1970.

"I am authorized to say that Judge Piggins definitely will be a candidate," Black said.

He added Justice Harry F. Kelley definitely would not seek re-election in 1970 and that Dethmers "will be a question mark." Both are Republicans.

Black said that in 1957 Republican nominated Joseph Moynihan Jr., son of a Wayne County circuit judge, to the Supreme court but deleted the "junior" from the ballot "just so the

TV Editorials Called Biased By Self-Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The operator of a Michigan television station has been reprimanded by the Federal Communications Commission in connection with the broadcast of editorials involving an issue in which the station owners had a private financial interest.

In a letter to Gross Telecasting Inc., operator of WJIM-TV, Lansing, the commission said broadcasters are obligated to avoid possible conflict of interest in the influencing of program content.

Involved were editorials in which the station was critical of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission's operation of Capital City Airport at Lansing, particularly regarding a controversy between airport authorities and a restaurant operated as an airport concession.

The restaurant is operated by the owners of WJIM-TV but the common ownership was not mentioned in the editorials, the FCC said.

Marina Dedication Warned On Pollution

Schweigert Urges Conservation Bonds

Senator Thomas F. Schweigert (R - Petoskey) congratulating Naubinway, Garfield Township and Mackinac County on the completion of this Naubinway marina project at exercises marking dedication of the $172,000 facility today, urged his listeners to fight lake pollution and to back the state's bonding efforts to promote tourism.

"I am happy that the Legislature, through the Michigan Waterways Commission, was able to provide $88,000 toward the development of this marina," said Schweigert. Combined with $84,000 in federal funds, it has produced a fine development, which may be just a starter for something bigger in the days ahead.

"Cooperation from many sources was necessary for the success of the project and an indication of this cooperation came from the joint efforts of the Mackinac County Road Commission and Garfield Township to provide the access roads to the marina.

"With beautiful Lake Michigan before us and such wonderful attractions as 'Big Mac', the Soo Locks, Tahquamenon, the Hiawatha National Forest, the Seney National Wildlife Refuge, Manistiquie Lake, the fabled Two-Hearted River and many others nearby, this area certainly is richly blessed with tourist attractions.

Winning Combination
"Add the warm hospitality of Upper Peninsula people, and you have a winning combination. But we cannot rest on our oars. Competition for the tourist dollars increases every day.

"Michigan must redouble its efforts to provide the facilities and the welcome that will bring these tourists back year after year. In the session of the Legislature just drawing to a close, we took two actions designed with that goal in mind.

"Few states of the union are as fortunate as Michigan as truly a 'Water Wonderland.' But already the warning signs are up that our waters—even mighty Lake Michigan—are becoming dangerously polluted.

"Polluted waters drive tourists away. So the Legislature approved a bill to permit Michigan residents to vote next November to bond the state for $335 million to fight the growing water pollution problem. Combined with federal and local funds, this would provide more than a billion dollars toward combating the problem.

Senator Thomas Schweigert

November Vote

"The Legislature also approved submitting to a vote of the people in November a $100 million bond issue to be used to provide thousands of new campsites for tourists, more parking places in state parks, three fish hatcheries to produce 20 million fish annually, and playgrounds, baseball and softball diamonds, tennis courts and other playground facilities for cities, counties and villages.

"These would be general obligation bonds and the program would not call for new state taxes to finance these two highly important and necessary programs.

"I hope you will urge all your friends next November to approve these bond issues. They will mean much to the people of Naubinway and the Upper Peninsula as well as the whole state.

"Control of our water quality is one of the most pressing conservation problems of today. While we already have done much toward protecting our water supply, the problem becomes more urgent every year as population increases and conflicting demands for water also grow. The volume of waste increases while stream flows remain constant.

Team Work Needed

"The burden of controlling water pollution must be shared by local, state and federal governments. Our State Water Resources Commission is doing an excellent job of getting municipalities and industries to install facilities to protect our water supply. The commission is somewhat handicapped by lack of funds but passage of the bond issue in November would do much to alleviate that shortcoming.

"Michigan has joined with other Great Lakes states to form a Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River Basin Commission to deal with all areas of water management.

"Industries have been exempted from ad valorem taxation on equipment installed to combat pollution.

"Topographic mapping has been stepped up to identify sites for reservoirs and areas needing flood plain zoning.

"Well drillers have been licensed and must keep logs of their operations.

"The Local River Management Act of 1964 allows creation of multi-governmental watershed councils to manage intrastate rivers.

"The Inland Lake Improvement Act permits local units to manage lakes, control levels and clean out lakes in an effort to rejuvenate 'dying' lakes.

"Just recently, our pit act was extensively revised to insure land suitability of new developments, sewage disposal and proper water supply. We have adopted new laws requiring waste collection systems and other effective means of pollution control on watercraft and in marinas such as we are dedicating here today.

"If Michigan is to remain the nation's 'Water Wonderland', we must continue to provide further enlightened legislation, continued administrative vigilance, sound cooperative planning, strengthened local effort, and aroused public opinion."

Riot Blueprint Given To Police

CHICAGO (AP)—A blueprint for coping with riots was laid before law enforcement officers this week.

It came from Raymond M. Mombosse, deputy attorney general of California, who was introduced as an authority on the subject to 100 policemen and others from many states at a seminar at the Chicago-Kent College of Law.

Mombosse suggested: —Move maximum manpower into the area as soon as possible.

—Capture the roofs.

—Get people off the streets under, say a curfew rule.

—Provide a police information officer to report developments to newsmen.

—Use a rumor control center to clear the air of wild reports.

—Place guards around major utilities.

Plans and preparations should be made, Mombosse said, from the top down.

Among the proposals: —Determine exactly what the governor's powers are, such as the legal base for declaring martial law, imposing a curfew and use of state police and national guardsmen, and ascertain the forms of proclamations.

—Make an inventory of resources available from men to guns to paddy wagons.

—Arrange mutual aid pacts among communities so they can lend or borrow policemen, equipment and guns in time of emergency.

—List liquor stores and gun shops, so they could be closed, and available ambulances.

—Use intelligence specialists to identify and keep track of potential riot leaders and mark out potential danger zones.

Mombosse also recommended: —A community relations program that would include training of policemen in that subject.

—A grievance system within police departments to make investigations where merited and to make corrections where warranted.

—Good working relations with newsmen, including an effort to compile working guidelines.

In response to a question of whether rioters should be shot down, Mombosse said he feels that "deadly force should be used only to protect his (a policeman's) life or the life of another."

He said he favors the use of a chemical spray over firepower against looters.

Fastest Ship Built At Bay

STURGEON BAY, Wis. — The Navy's newest patrol gunboat was launched here Thursday and christened the USS Welch.

The 164 foot long, 235 ton all-aluminum boat accelerates so fast that its crew of 21 men and 3 officers will wear seat belts to keep from being thrown against bulkheads. She jumps from 0 to 30 mph in 60 seconds.

Top speed is secret, but Rear Admiral Jamie Adair called her "the highest speed ship of her size in the world."

He said that only the hydrofoil gunboats now under tests could outpace them in a race. Boats of the class of the Welch are the first speedy gunboats built for control of coastal waters since the famed PT boats of World War II.

Two diesel engines with 1,750 combined horsepower and a J-79 jet aircraft gas turbine engine give it more than 13,500 horsepower for maximum speed.

The Welch is one of five gunboats of the PG-84 class being built at the Peterson Brothers, Inc., yards. It was the first ceremonial launching here in 6 years.

Built on the West Coast, the first PG-84s are already serving in Vietnam.

Attacking Cat Gets Rabies Check

SAGINAW (AP)—The body of a 14-pound black cat, identified as the one that attacked a Saginaw woman July 11, has been sent to the Michigan Diagnostic Laboratory in Lansing for a rabies check.

The cat was shot to death Thursday by a Saginaw police officer near the spot of the attack. Mrs. Charles I. Priem identified the cat as the one that tore through the screen door on the front of her home.

The animal then scratched her with its claws, requiring 12 stitches.

Mrs. Priem has not taken any rabies treatments.

Coho Fail To Cooperate As Fishing Fever Grows

By DAVE ANDREWS THOMPSON — The coho are here, but not all the time. That was the problem Friday afternoon as dozens of fishermen—drawn by the excitement of hooking one of the Great Lakes' newest game fish—found the mouth of Thompson Creek tranquil and without much fishing activity except for the soft purr of retrieving reels.

The Conservation Dept. reported Friday morning that the Alaskan Coho salmon planted in the small creek in 1967 were beginning to congregate at the mouth of the river in advance of spawning runs.

According to fisherman, however, the coho are still on the move, coming into the shallows early in the mornings when the lake is calm to feed on fly hatches, then moving back into deep water when a breeze stirs the surface.

Fishing has lasted only an hour or two.

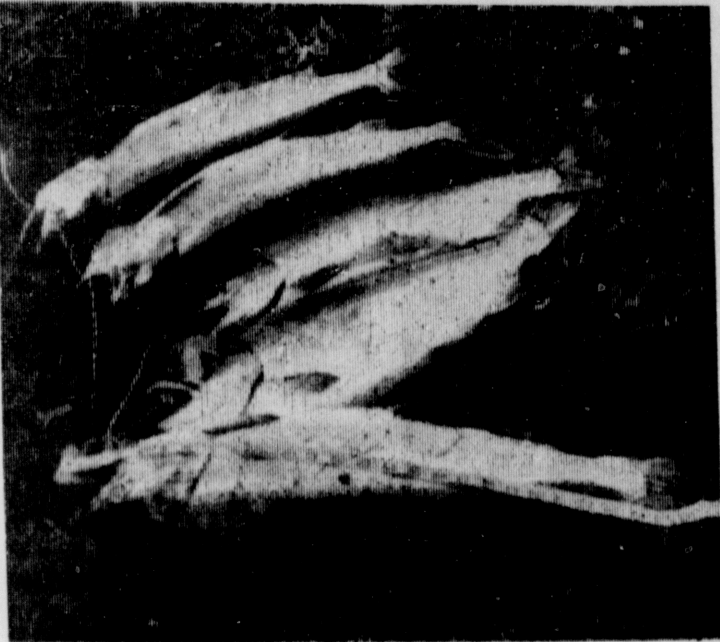

One man, who said he has been fishing Cohos nearly every morning for the past month, said he waits on the beach until he sees a salmon break water. Then he wades into the lake and casts, generally using a red and white spoon.

"The fish are funny," he continued.

Fishermen casting over a school and salmon & retrieving through the middle have had almost as many "snags" of fish as actual strikes, he said.

The salmon seem to divide as the lure runs through the school, then circle and close in behind to follow, bumping the lure occasionally, which results in the snags, he added.

"I've had fish up to within eight feet of where I've been standing," he said.

FIVE COHO SALMON weighing about 35 pounds were caught off Thompson Creek Friday by Fred Peterson and Lt. Col. Philip Lowry, both of Manistique. The largest weighed eight pounds. One fisherman lost 130 yards of eight-pound test line to a coho and another had 100 yards of 12-pound test line stripped from his reel. (Lowry Photo)

When strikes come, however, the fun begins.

Several fishermen reported that Coho had stripped a hundred yards or more of line off their reels and kept right on going.

Conservation officials at the Thompson hatchery reported that several Coho were taken early in the morning Friday with the largest fish measuring 25 inches and the smallest 19. Heaviest salmon reported taken was about eight pounds.

Although both male and female fish have been caught, females are not as yet heavy with spawn, indicating that it may be some time before the fish move into the creek.

The Alaskan Cohos returning to Thompson were planted in May, 1967. About 25,000 were put in Thompson Creek after they had been reared

Churches Plan Union Service

A special 8 a. m. early worship service will be held at the First United Methodist Church this Sunday with the Rev. Theodore Doane, pastor, preaching the sermon. This service is in addition to the regular services at all local churches. All residents and visitors are invited to attend the service. The United Methodist Church is located on N. Cedar St. at U. A complete listing of church services in the Manistique area may be found in today's Church Page of the Daily Press.

Research Sub Starts Tests

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Ben Franklin, America's newest research submarine, began its first full day of testing in the water today in preparation for 1,500-mile drift deep in the Gulf Stream next February.

The 135-ton vessel, shaped like an oversized sausage as long as a railroad tank car, was lowered onto the ocean's surface for the first time Friday at the port of Palm Beach here. It will remain on the surface until the first dives are scheduled in about two weeks, officials said.

The ship, built for Grumman by Jacques Piccard, is to house a six-man scientific team headed by Piccard next February on a four-week drift in the Gulf Stream between West Palm Beach and Cape Cod, Mass.

Manistique Teens Love Hostel Tour Of Europe

"The Traveling Teens"—three Manistique girls who spent a month touring the Heartland of Europe—returned home Tuesday after a 12,000 mile trip which took them to seven European countries. The girls left Manistique June 25 and flew to New York City where they boarded a Dutch airliner for Amsterdam.

Mary Beth Waters, Bonnie Hentschell, and Toni Rusiecki are home with the excitement of their experiences still evident after a 3,500 miles bus tour through Holland, Switzerland, Belgium, Austria, Germany, Italy and France. They were among 70 teens traveling under the auspices of the World Affairs Coordinating Council.

The ruins and historic points of interest in Rome made it her favorite city, Bonnie said, while Mary Beth chose Amsterdam because of its friendly people, cleanliness, climate similar to Manistique, and the quaint buildings. Both girls said they enjoyed riding the trolley cars in Amsterdam.

Although they didn't find a soft dinner roll in Europe they experimented with many new foods and were particularly fond of a Dutch breakfast consisting of bread and butter sprinkled with chocolate bits. Other food observations: a caramel custard dessert which they found on menus throughout Europe; spaghetti, lasagna, and pizza served as entrees; a spicy baked tomato-green pepper-onion dish served in Italy as a hot salad; peaches as the No. 1 dessert in Italy while other countries consider cheese

Prisoners Stage Shattering Game

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The softball game at McNeil Island federal penitentiary got a little rough. The final score was no runs, hits or errors, and 25 broken windows. Prison officials said an umpire enforced his decision by hitting a player over the head with his face mask. The player and a teammate retaliated with their bats, chasing the umpire off the field, then, they fled to a cell house and vented their disgust on the windows.

Birth Control Edict Hinted

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced today that a papal document will be issued Monday, touching off speculation it might be Pope Paul's long awaited pronouncement on birth control.

Vatican officials declined to confirm or deny the speculation. Rumors have been growing for weeks that the Pope might soon give his answer on the controversial birth control issue.

The general speculation is that if the Pope does now finally speak out he will not alter the Roman Catholic Church's basic position against chemical and mechanical means of contraception.

Steel Talks Are Continuing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top negotiators reported today they were still looking for common ground to reach an economic settlement in the basic steel industry, but had not found it.

It was the first official word from the top bargaining table since last week.

A statement issued by I.W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers, and R. Conrad Cooper, head of the company team, denied that a 90 cent settlement was in the offing.

"To put the record straight this is the situation," the statement said. "Neither side has been inflexible in its position so far. We have been attempting to solve our problems and reconcile our divergent views."

The basic steel labor contract expires at midnight on Wednesday. Negotiators have been bargaining in Pittsburgh since June 24 under a strict news blackout.

A spokesman for the top negotiators said the statement referred specifically to the 90 cents figure being bandied about hotel lobbies Friday.

Meanwhile, local union officials say the threat of wildcat strikes hangs over the industry even if an industrywide settlement is reached.

Gas Pipeline Construction To Be Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting under court order, the Federal Power Commission is reconsidering its decision to let the Great Lakes Gas Transmission Co. build a 1,000-mile pipeline to carry natural gas from the United States into eastern Canada.

The FPC scheduled new hearings on the case after the U.S. Court of Appeals here ruled June 21 that the commission did not apply proper antitrust standards when it authorized the Wilmington, Del., firm to carry out the project.

Great Lakes is jointly owned by Trans-Canada Pipeline Ltd., of Calgary and American Natural Gas Co. of Detroit.

(The pipeline is now under construction, with one segment being built across the Upper Peninsula from Ironwood to the Mackinac Bridge, where it will cross into Lower Michigan on its way to a crossing into Canada at Port Huron and Sarnia, Ontario.)

No One Can Win In War: Rocky

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, calling the North Vietnamese "plenty sophisticated," says the Vietnam war is at a stalemate now and will become more dangerous if the United States further escalates its military effort.

"They can't win. We can't win," the Republican presidential candidate told an enthusiastic crowd Friday.

Repeating his call for a negotiated peace, Rockefeller said China and the Soviet Union "will take it right up to nuclear war" if the United States further escalates the war.

At a rally of 7,500 people, Rockefeller said the current political leadership "fears change," and urged a Republican victory in November to preserve a forward-moving society.

Rockefeller, whose visit followed that of third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace by just one day, drew loud and long cheers with a sharp condemnation of Wallace's "appeal to racism."

"It is easy for Gov. Wallace to appeal to hate, fear, and racism, and further divide this country," Rockefeller said.

Delta Cooperates:

Historic Sites Survey Started

The historic sites committee of the Delta County Historical Society, headed by Floyd T. Roberts of Rapid River, is cooperating with the Michigan Historical Commission in a three-year historic sites survey project, part of a national program inaugurated by the Historical Preservation Act.

Roberts and other members of his committee met with Leon Martin, Lansing, curator of historic sites for the Michigan Historical Commission, at the Delta County Historical Museum in Escanaba Friday.

They discussed the role of the local committee as volunteer coordinators in doing research to verify the authenticity of historic sites and structures in Delta County.

Historic sites registry forms, similar to those designed by the National Park Service, will be completed by the local committee and returned to the Commission. Photographs of the site, a summary of its historical significance, map coordinates and other information will be assembled.

The Delta County Historical Society Committee has already made considerable progress in listing historic sites in a project related to its historic markers program. The listing will be completed and the precise information assembled on a priority basis.

At the local level the Delta County Historical Society has selected for marking two historic sites in the most recent phase of the project: The Escanaba River marker at Pioneer Trail Park, and the Whitefish River Trail, which will have a marker erected this summer along U.S. 2 east of Rapid River. Both markers were financed by a gift from the Escanaba Daily Press.

In Michigan the historical sites survey is coordinated by the Historical Commission, and one of the benefits will be the inclusion of sites in the National Registry, and their protection from impairment. Should federal funds become available, site preservation and development would be assisted.

122 Below Zero!

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new low-temperature record for a U.S. station in Antarctica—122 degrees below zero Fahrenheit—has been chalked up while most of the United States has been experiencing a heat wave, the National Science Foundation reported today.

The new low, recorded last Saturday at the United States' Plateau Station in eastern Antarctica, still is five degrees above the minus-127 degrees the Soviet Union claims was recorded at its Vostok station—also in east Antarctica—a few years ago.

The National Science Foundation also reported a new record Antarctic wind velocity—116 miles an hour—it said was recorded Thursday at the U.S. station at McMurdo Sound.

McCarthy At Detroit

Democrats Told To Help Negro

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says black power is needed for black dignity and responsibility—and it is time for the Democratic party to do more than talk about it.

"The fact is that poverty among black people is no accident," the Democratic presidential contender said. "Black people are poor because they are powerless and they are powerless because they are black."

He made the comment in a prepared speech for his Tiger Stadium rally tonight.

McCarthy said the way to give Negroes power is to bring industry, locally owned businesses and antipoverty projects directly into their communities.

"It is time to do more than talk if we are to be truly a party of the people," he said. "It is time for a new administration to address itself to the condition of powerlessness."

"For with power will come dignity," he said, "and with

Johnson Hosts Nixon Briefing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has given former Vice President Richard M. Nixon a first-hand briefing on U.S. foreign policy—and renewed an invitation for the Republican presidential contender to visit the LBJ Ranch in Texas.

It was man to man talk for half an hour alone with the President Friday, Nixon said, and then Secretary of State Dean Rusk and presidential aide Walt W. Rostow joined them for another hour.

"No politics was discussed," Nixon said.

The former vice president, who had served as Senate president when Johnson was majority leader, said he had made one commitment to the President:

"Win or lose, I'll accept the invitation to go to the ranch after the election."

Nixon said Johnson's briefing included a discussion of the USS Pueblo, the U.S. intelligence ship seized by North Korea last January, and the Czechoslovakian crisis.

He said he would not get into either matter, calling the Czechoslovakian situation "very sensitive."

Trevino Fails To Make Cut In Minnesota Golf Classic

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Pete Brown and Harry Toscano resumed their quest for the biggest payday in their pro careers today, while the gallery at Keiler Golf Course had to find a new hero with U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino failing to survive the cut Friday.

Brown, the 33-year-old Pomona, Calif., pro who has won only one tournament in his five years on the tour, and Toscano, a 26-year-old tour sophomore from New Castle, Pa., whose best finish has been a tie for 11th place, were tied for the lead at nine-under-par 133 going into today's third round of the $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic.

Trevino, who posted four straight subpar rounds to win the Open, couldn't crack par in three days of trying on a course the pros have been burning up for years. He shot a 76 in the pro-am Wednesday, 74 in the first round Thursday and 72 Friday to fall by the wayside with a 146.

It took a one-over par 143 to make the cut and 79 pros survived it and teed off today in search of the $20,000 top money.

Sixty of Trevino's fellow pros are under par for 36 holes in this tournament and 10 others have matched par.

Whether Brown, Toscano and the others remaining can capture the imagination of the galleries remains to be seen.

Most of the top winners on the tour elected to pass up the classic after playing in Milwaukee two weeks ago, then going to San Antonio and battling the Texas heat in the PGA championship.

Brown and Toscano followed up their opening-round 66s with 67s Friday.

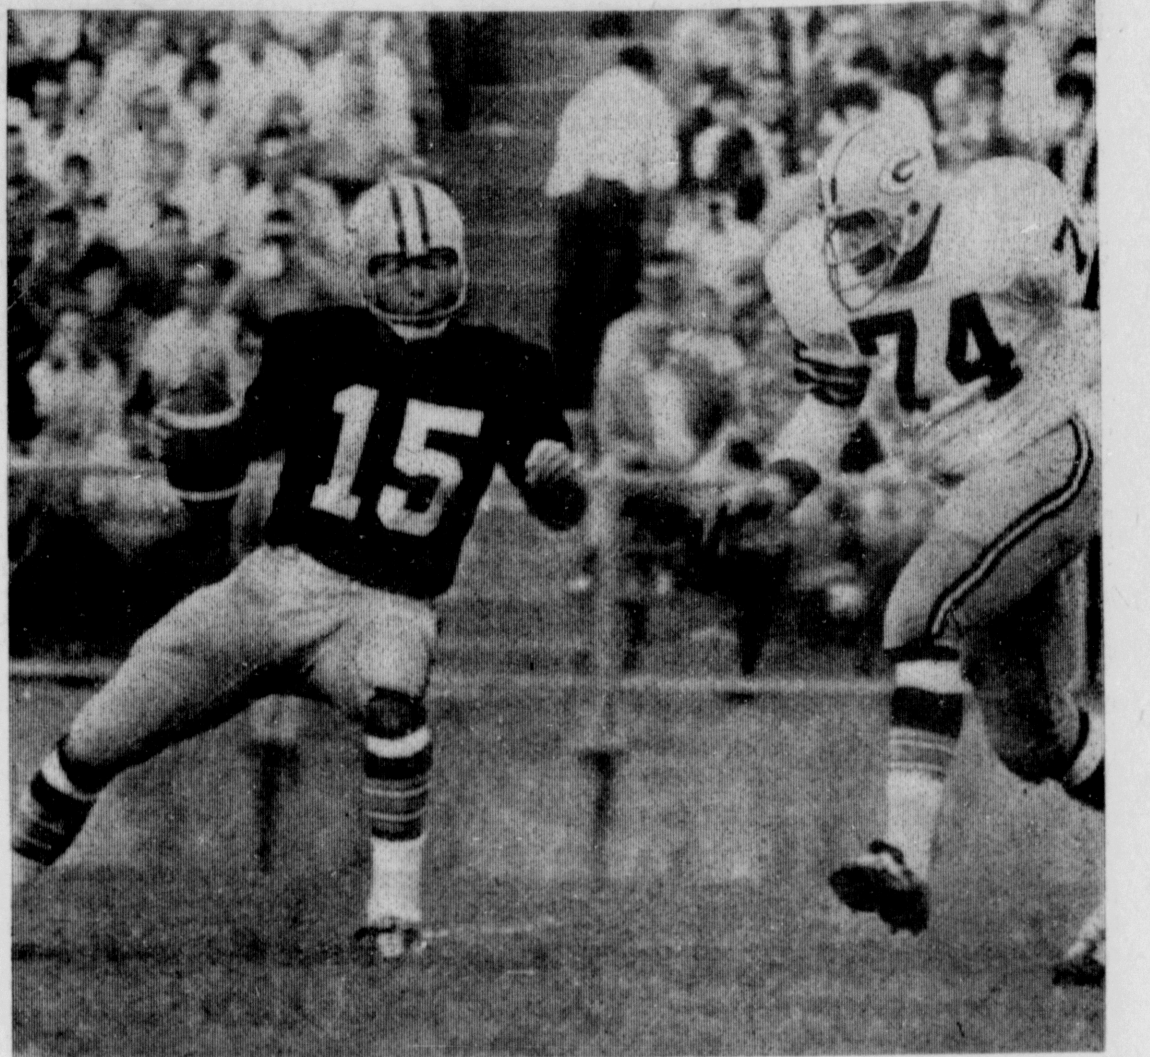

Three others who had been tied for the first-day lead fell back. Jim Colbert of Overland Park, Kan., slipped one stroke and is in third place at 134.

Bob Stanton of Sydney, Australia, dropped to a 71 and fell into a tie for eighth with six others, including defending champion Lou Graham at 137.

J. C. Snead, nephew of Sammy Snead, soared to a 73 and slumped down to a tie for 21st at 139.

Moving up to fourth place was Tommy Aaron, who charged around Keller's 6,702-yard, par-71 layout in 66 for a 134 total.

Then came Tom Weiskopf, Ken Still and Joel Goldstrand tied at 136.

PACKER QUARTERBACK Bart Starr seems to be bracing himself for his soon-to-come encounter with defensive lineman Henry Jordan (74) in the Packers' intrasquad game in Green Bay Thursday night. As expected, the offense beat the defense, 10-0. (AP Wirephoto)

49er's Get Kevin Hardy In Deal For Dave Parks

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco 49ers suddenly have rookie lineman Kevin Hardy and a first-round draft choice. The New Orleans Saints have receiver Dave Parks and neither team is happy about it.

The decision by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle which sent Hardy and New Orleans' first-round 1968 draft choice to the 49ers comes under some complicated rules. But the simple matter is that neither the 49ers nor the Saints are very pleased.

"The commissioner's decision is not to our liking," said 49er president Lou Spadina, but he added he's "glad the matter is settled."

The Saints were jolted by the decision Friday night.

"It's Commissioner Rozelle's mandate and we must abide by it," said Saints owner John McCom Jr. "I was surprised and disappointed that he took an active player off our roster as compensation for Parks."

Parks played out his option with the 49ers last season, then went job-hunting. He signed with the Saints Wednesday. He was injured and a disappointment most of last season with the 49ers.

Hardy was the Saints' No. 1 choice in the last draft. A star tackle at Notre Dame, he was being groomed as a defensive end and has been labeled as a possible star.

When Parks became a free agent, he was able to sign with any club. But under NFL rules, the Commissioner must decide what the new club must pay—in this case Hardy and the No. 1 choice—to the team that lost the free agent.

And John Gordy is back in the news. Another walkout. But this time it was a two-some, not the whole National Football League. He and Roger Shoals, a tackle, left the Detroit Lions' training camp. Neither has signed his 1968 contract and both reportedly are dissatisfied with salary offers from the Lions.

Gordy, a guard, is president of the NFL Players' Association and was at the center of the recent threatened player strike subsequent owners' lockout and negotiations.

The Lions conducted an intrasquad scrimmage Friday night and Gordy and Shoals did not dress for the scrimmage, a team spokesman said.

Quarterback King Hill, backup man to Norm Snead, ended his brief holdout, signing with the Philadelphia Eagles. Eight starters from last year's team still were unsigned after two weeks of practice at Reading, Pa.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you get down to the mid-iron range—let's say around 150 yards from the hole—your psychology of hitting the ball changes a little. You're no longer shooting for a broad target. You're aiming for more control, though you're not quite pin-pointing the ball yet.

You start taking more of a descending blow, which results in counterspin to control the roll. You open your stance a bit because a shorter type of swing is demanded.

I don't want to infer that with the long irons you're not concentrating on hitting the greens in hope of making a birdie. But they're still power-type shots, from 205 yards with a two-iron to 185 with a four-iron, and you hope for accuracy, rather than look for it.

With the shorter irons, you're in the finesse range and you stress accuracy. You expect it.

When I mention accuracy, I'm only referring to the pin itself. Obviously, you expect to hit the green (although I must confess that many times I've hit a nine-iron and missed it). But the target for your shot now becomes the hole itself or that very immediate area around it.

I'm conscious, of course, of my own type of game. I'm a hooker so I'll generally play to the right side of the green and draw the ball into the middle near the flag. At least, that's the general idea.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

To Train A Child

Mommy, I love you.

I'm glad I'm alive.

It's fun to run and play and laugh and dance.

It's hard to stand still and listen.

Mommy, I love you.

Thank you for taking care of me. Thank you for cookies and milk and bread.

Please give me a dime for Sunday School. I like Sunday School. We sing and laugh and learn about God.

Mommy, I love you.

And so on and on she prattles in her own innocent and naive way. Soon, however, her questions will become more complex and her parents will need all the love and wisdom they can obtain.

Fortunately, we as parents are not alone in this endeavor. The Church stands ready and anxious to help us train our children. Through worship, study and meditation we can learn to know what God requires of us. Come to the church of your choice this Sunday and every Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
